- ✓ Follow up will be undertaken on specific individual absences which fall below 90% Identification of developing patterns of irregular attendance and lateness will be monitored and the EWO may be contacted.

Holiday Requests during term time

The Government has made amendments to the Education (Pupil Registration) (England) Regulations 2006, which came into force on 1st September 2013.

These state that Headteachers may not grant any leave of absence for holidays during the term time unless there are exceptional circumstances; in these cases it is the Headteacher who determines the number of days a child can be away from the school if the leave is granted.

There is no 'right of appeal' to either the governors or the local authority regarding the Headteacher's decision.

The following will be used as guidelines as to whether the head teacher will grant leave.

- ✓ Holidays in term time will not be granted just because it is cheaper during the term time.
- ✓ Holiday will not be granted if the child's attendance is currently below 96% (in the autumn term the absence figures for the previous year will be referred to)
- ✓ Attendance at events such as christenings and weddings that have been booked during school time may be granted – but only for the day of the event.
- ✓ Time will not be granted for children to be with their parents on their 'honeymoon'. Therefore if a wedding was taking place abroad the leave will not be granted.
- ✓ If attendance is below 96% the leave will still not be granted.
- ✓ Leave, even if exceptional, will not be granted in September of each year.

Parents are reminded that if they take their child out of school without permission from the Headteacher they may be liable for a fixed-penalty notice fine.

We are aware that these rules may make holidays difficult for some families, but our aim, and that of the government, is to ensure that children have the best opportunity to succeed. Children will still have 13 weeks a year to have a holiday with their family.

- ✓ Parents should request holiday leave at least 4 weeks before the planned holiday.
- ✓ Penalty Notices Penalty Notices can be issued to parents and carers for non-attendance at school as part of the Anti Social Behaviour Act 2003.

- ✓ A Penalty notice is an alternative to prosecution. It requires the parent to pay a fixed amount as a fine for the child's non attendance and avoids a court appearance.
- ✓ The fine is currently £120 to be paid within 28 days. The 28 days starts two days after the date of issue, as shown on the notice.
- ✓ If the fine is paid within 21 days, payment reduces to £60.

PLEASE BE AWARE when two parents/carers are issued with a penalty notice for the same child both penalty notices must be paid. The fine will apply to each parent for each child who fails to attend regularly and punctually. For example, in a family where there are two parents who fail to ensure proper attendance of their child, the fine would be £120 for each parent.

Strategies for Promoting Attendance/Punctuality

- It is the belief of the staff that children are more likely to attend regularly if the curriculum is lively and meets the needs of the children. The curriculum will be reviewed regularly and topics will be based around the children's interests.
- Attendance statistics will be collected and used to inform pastoral and curriculum practices.
 - Rewards will be given for 100% attendance.
 - Pupils whose attendance falls below 90% will be set targets for improvement and meetings will be initiated.
 - Visits to feeder schools will be made to ensure the fullest support for all children as they transfer on to their next school.

Collection of Attendance Data

Attendance Data is collected daily, monthly and yearly.

It is discussed with individual teachers, whole school and at Governors meetings and is reported in the Head teachers report to governors each term.
