- It has also produced an evaluation tool to help schools measure the impact of the approaches they are using.
- The Pupil Premium Awards Website celebrates schools that have been recognised for their successful use of the premium.
- Pupil Premium Reviews look at the pupil premium strategy and identify ways in which the funding can be used more effectively.

- Ofsted Inspections report on the attainment and progress of disadvantaged children that attract the pupil premium.
- School Websites must publish the school's strategy for the use of the pupil premium.

For the current academic year, it is a requirement to publish:

- The pupil premium grant allocation amount
- A summary of the main barriers to educational achievement faced by eligible children.
- How the pupil premium will be spent to address the barriers and the reasons for the approach.
- How the impact of the pupil premium will be measured.
- The date of the next review of the pupil premium strategy.

For the previous academic year, it is a requirement to publish:

- How the pupil premium allocation was spent.
- The impact of the expenditure on eligible and other children.

Pupil premium funding is allocated for each financial year, but the published information should refer to the academic year. Schools should initially report on funding up to the end of the financial year and then add the allocations for the end of the academic year when the figures are confirmed.

- The Teaching Schools Council has produced guidance and templates to help schools present their pupil premium strategy.
